

TEXT-TO-911 SERVICE

What is Text-to-911?

Text-to-911 is the ability to send text messages to local 911 dispatch centers during an emergency.

Your wireless carrier sends your text messages to a "Text Control Center," which forwards them to the 911 center, who receives them via an internet-based application. If for some reason the internet is down, you will receive a message telling you that text-to-911 is not currently available in your area

When is it appropriate to text instead of calling 911?

Text-to-911 is intended primarily for use in three scenarios:

- ▶ By an individual who is deaf, hard-of-hearing or has a speech disability
- ▶ A situation in which speaking out loud would be unsafe for a caller
- ▶ A medical emergency rendering a person incapable of speech

Common Questions

Can I text 911 from a disconnected cell phone?

You must have text messaging included on your wireless plan with a participating carrier to use text-to-911 service.

What does the service cost?

Standard messaging rates may apply; however, text-to-911 service itself does not raise your wireless bill. It is funded by an existing fee that is already included in your phone service fees.

Instructions

- DO NOT TEXT AND DRIVE
- Know your location
- Open your text messaging screen
- In the TO field, enter: 911 (with no dashes or spaces)
- Your first text should be short, with the location and brief description of the emergency
- Push SEND
- Answer questions and follow instructions from the 911 text-taker

EMERGENCY USE ONLY
Prank texts to 911 can be identified and could result in prosecution

Things to Remember

No group texts: Do not send your 911 message in a group text to multiple people. That will stop the message from reaching the 911 dispatcher.

Plain Text only: Text-to-911 can only receive words, numbers and punctuation. 911 cannot receive emoticons, emoji, pictures or videos. Do not use "text speak" or abbreviations (such as TTYL or LOL) since your message could be interpreted incorrectly.

English only: Interpretation services are only available for voice calls, not text-to-911.

Will the 911 dispatcher know my location when I text? Not automatically. It's important that you ALWAYS know your location to provide to 911 dispatch.

Call If You Can: A voice call is still the quickest and most reliable way to communicate an emergency to 911
